

About Ann Kiernan, J.D.

Ann Kiernan has been an attorney since 1981. She has litigated claims of wrongful discharge and discrimination before state and federal courts and administrative matters before the New Jersey Division on Civil Rights, the National Labor Relations Board and the Equal Opportunity Employment Commission, representing both employers and employees. Ms. Kiernan co-hosted The Employee Rights Forum, a weekly radio call-in show reaching up to a half-million listeners in the New York metropolitan area, and her articles on employment law have been published in many books and magazines. She has worked with Fair Measures since 1997.

What Clients Say:

"Ann Kiernan was superb. She knew her material and generally made this an enjoyable, informative day."

-Manager, Sun Microsystems, Inc.

"Ann was particularly effective in giving useful examples to accompany the material being discussed. She was highly professional and did an excellent job."

- Manager, Orchid BioSciences, Inc.

"Excellent trainer. Ann presented the information in a manner that was easy to grasp and very relevant to my current management needs."

- Manager, Oracle Corp.

"Ann was very dynamic, with great side story examples. This is an excellent 'essentials' course."

- Manager, AmSurg, Inc.

"Ann Kiernan held our full attention. Ann was a delight to listen to, and she kept our group interested with participation, open discussion, group activity and a wonderful sense of humor."

- Manager, Heights Partners, Inc.

"Fabulous, knowledgeable, and entertaining!"

- Manager, Adobe, Inc.

"Great instructor! She knew her materials; great examples; great sense of humor."

-Manager, Oracle Corp.